

BILL INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Commonwealth of Canada

How About YOUR Quota

It's zero hour in Canada's Second Victory Loan Campaign—tomorrow we go over the top.

Edmonton, as a city, and Alberta, as a province, have gone away over the original quotas set for them. This gratifying achievement was made possible, not because everybody did his or her share, but because many of our citizens—realizing the terrible urgency of the Victory Loan appeal—did MORE than their share.

There are still thousands of Edmonton citizens who, without serious sacrifice, could and should buy more Victory Bonds. They have fallen short of their personal quotas.

Are you one of these?

How about YOUR personal quota? Can you conscientiously say to yourself tonight, as you sit at your home, safeguarded from bombings and death thanks to our brave boys in the services—can you truthfully say: "I have done all I can—I have bought all the bonds I can possibly finance... there's nothing more I can do, as far as investing in this Victory Loan is concerned, to support the boys in the Services."

If you can honestly say this, you are entitled to a deep sense of satisfaction attainable in no other way.

But can you say it?

Tomorrow—Saturday—is the last day in the Campaign. It has been called "Everybody's Day"—because we are appealing to everybody in Edmonton to go "all out" for Victory by making the last supreme effort both to buy more bonds, and to induce their friends to do the same.

Edmonton's seven service clubs are lending their leadership to "Everybody's Day". The members of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Gyro, Lions, Kinamen, Optimist and Compompin clubs have undertaken not only to add to their personal purchases where possible, but—in scores of instances—to spend the whole day selling bonds.

The Victory Loan Committee gratefully acknowledges the splendid assistance these clubs are rendering for their city, and for all humanity, and asks you... and you... to lend your assistance too.

Your personal quota in this loan is the largest number of bonds you can buy. The most you can do is the least you can do.

Don't fail the boys in uniform... go over the top on YOUR personal quota tomorrow!

Ring on Nazis

MOSCOW, March 6.—(AP)—Soviet troops who fought through heavy shellfire have tightened the drawing on the Rasev-Yuznaya pocket with capture of Yuzhny, a fortified Ugra river town 120 miles southeast of Moscow, the Russian said today.

Smashing blows upon the central front came as Red army tanks and artillery continued to pound the entrenched German 16th army in the Sereya-Rusa sector to the north.

About 1,000 Germans were said to have been killed in the repulse of two Nazi counter-attacks, 400 in a day's fighting on a central front sector and "several dozen" trapped by an automatic rifle detachment which "slaughtered the enemy from the village of N."

German planes raided Moscow during the night after a long lay-off, dropping bombs at random and inflicting insignificant damage and some casualties, the Russian radio said. The Soviet Information Bureau said German planes were shot down yesterday in the vicinity of the capital, where the night attack, the first of the Moscow bladed like a fly of July night from the bursting of Soviet anti-aircraft shells.

Domestic Orders
"Freezing" Of All
Flaxseed Stocks

WINNIPEG, March 6.—(CP)—The Canadian Wheat Board today announced the Dominion government has ordered the freezing of all flaxseed stocks in elevators and mills in Canada and provided penalties on summary conviction for removal of flaxseed without permission of a board for all stock removed, or imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or both, and imprisonment.

On the evening decks of the tanks, the Albertans built up a complete bag of tricks to stop the enemy's advance. A favorite tactic is to use the tanks. A favorite tactic is to use the tanks. A favorite tactic is to use the tanks.

Last Minute Appeal
Victory Bonds Made:
City Needs $465,250

"Let's see it through to a successful finish," is the appeal of Victory Loan campaign officials on the eve of the final day of the campaign. Reason for the appeal is the grim fact that the committee is faced with the problem of raising $465,250 during Friday and Saturday if the city is to meet the revised objective of $6,150,000.

In a "last ditch" effort to succeed, campaign officials are working feverishly with preparations for an "Everybody's Day" Saturday. Four bands will be in attendance during the day and a voluntary staff of 300 soldiers representing the United Service Clubs Association of Edmonton will canvass and re-canvass all prospects.

The Saturday campaign will open at 8:30 a.m. when the 300 new recruits, the 30 official soldiers, and other campaign officials will meet at breakfast in the Macdonald hotel for last-minute instructions. Incidentally, all workers will purchase their own tickets for the meal. These can be obtained at the front office at the Macdonald.

Reserve Army
Recruiting Is Under Review

Recruiting policy to be followed in connection with the Canadian Army (Reserve) units stationed in the Edmonton area was discussed at a meeting of military commanders held at the Prince of Wales Armoury Friday morning.

Li. Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., area commander, presided at the meeting, which was attended by Lt. Col. H. Jamieson, officer commanding 2nd Edmonton Regiment (R.C.A.), Li. Col. R. W. Walker, M.C., officer commanding 2nd Edmonton Regiment (R.C.A.), Li. Col. R. Wilson, public relations officer for M.D. 13, and D. E. Campbell, provincial director of publicity.

Mr. Campbell is a member of the recently formed civilian recruiting committee. An increasingly important role is to be taken by reserve army units as a result of the changes in the world military situation.

Compulsions
Possible Step
For War Cash

If the grim reality of war is insufficient incentive for Canadians to give sufficient financial support, the government will have to resort to compulsion, D. McKenney, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, told more than 300 Edmonton and district members of chambers of commerce, at a luncheon tendered in his honor at the Macdonald hotel Friday.

Mr. McKenney spoke on "Facing Up To The Realities of War" and dealt primarily with the situation of the agricultural industry in the absence of national adjustment due to war needs.

He repeated a resolution passed recently by the Canadian Chamber whereby it was determined to do all possible to arrive at a better balance between farming and other industries.

Steel Shortages
Said Hindering
U.S. War Effort

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP)—Shortages of materials are threatening to hamper production of achieving President Roosevelt's "blue print for victory" goals, W. H. Harrison, production director of the United States War Production Board said today.

In planes and shipbuilding, major elements in the President's program, steel and aluminum shortages have cut output below Harrison's hopes, he told a press conference, adding that some of the lag in shipbuilding might never be caught up.

The President has asked production of 60,000 war planes and 8,000, 000 tons of shipping this year.

Dominion
Approves
Highway

OTTAWA, March 6.—(CP)—A recommendation of the Canada-United States permanent joint defense board for completion of the U. S. highway through Canada to Alaska has been approved by the war committee of the Canadian cabinet, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today. Construction will start at once, he said.

The prime minister said the new route would follow approximately the new air route which connects Fort St. John, B.C., with Alaska.

The highway from Fort St. John to Fairbanks, Alaska, will connect with the existing highway of Canada and the United States.

Because of heavy war commitments already undertaken by Canada, the United States has been asked to defer the cost of construction of the road.

After the war the highway will become a part of the highway system of Canada.

It has been estimated here at $25,000,000 to $30,000,000.

Nazi Threat To Egypt Lessened

LONDON, March 6.—(CP)—The German threat to the British campaign in Egypt has been lessened by the capture of the German desert army commander, General Rommel, on his return from his post as minister of state in the eastern Mediterranean area.

He said 50,000 to 100,000 tons of German ammunition had been captured and added that this, plus the desert barrier over which the Axis would have to attack, plus the British army in "far better position for the defense of Egypt than before."

Plan To Prevent Any Profit
In Wheat Trading

OTTAWA, March 6.—(AP)—The Dominion government has worked out a method to prevent any possible profiteering from wheat transactions due to the increased initial wheat price to be announced today, S. A. Seaton, Winnipeg, Manitoba, exchange president, said in a statement.

Mr. Seaton said the market would continue to operate normally.

Bill To Amend Marketing Act Is Introduced

A bill to amend the Alberta Marketing Act by giving authority to the provincial marketing board to acquire and dispose of real and personal property, was introduced in the legislature Thursday by Hon. E. C. Manning, minister of trade and industry.

The legislature gave second reading to two other bills and the committee of the whole reported five bills for third reading after studying them in detail and making changes in four of them. Two others were held in committee for further adjustment and clarification of a few clauses.

The amendment to the Marketing Act authorizes the government to create corporations as wholly owned subsidiaries of the board or to acquire property from the board or its subsidiary boards.

MAKE ADVANCES

The provincial treasurer is given authority in another amending clause to make advances to corporations organized on the application of the board. The aggregate of these advances is not to exceed $100,000.

The bill providing amendments to the Red Deer charter was reported for third reading.

This clause provided the city of Red Deer shall not be liable except in case of gross negligence for injury to property or person caused by snow, ice or slush on any sidewalks, streets, highways or lanes or for the want of repair of any sidewalk.

Mayor Andrew Davison, Ind., Calgary, said the provision was practically the same as in the Calgary charter. Hon. Lucien Maynard, minister of municipal affairs, said he believed the provision was similar to provisions in other charters.

CO-OPERATIVE ACT

Some sections of the bill to amend the Co-Operative Associations Act were not approved in committee of the whole.

These clauses dealt with the payment of goods and the receiving of credit by the associations.

Mr. Manning said the major amendments in the bill arise from representations from the co-operative associations. The bill is designed to give the associations the same incidental powers as the co-operative Act and provides for alternative representation on the board of directors by districts rather than by members at large.

The other bill not completely approved by the committee was an amendment to the Teachers' Retirement Fund Act.

Premier Abbott said one object of the bill was to extend benefits of the act to teachers holding Alberta certificates who are teaching in Lloydminster, Sask. schools.

The bill precluded many questions on the retirement fund and Hon. Selon Low, provincial treasurer, said that at the peak, expected to be reached in 19 or 15 years, the government will be contributing $57,000 to the fund each year. When the fund began the government's share was $2,000, but this has been rising steadily and will be $11,500 in 1942.

Gordon Taylor, S.C. Drumheller, asked about the possibility of teachers in private schools being brought under the act. Mr. Low said if representations were made to the board, consideration would be given but an amendment to the act would be required to bring any such teachers under the plan.

ASSEMBLY ACT

The bill also was given second reading yesterday along with the bill repealing the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act.

The amendment to the Legislative Assembly act provides that when and if payments are due to an M.L.A. from the government insurance office, such payments can legally be made. Ordinarily,

Glenora School Rink Location Causes Protest

Petition by certain residents in the vicinity of 135 street and 103 avenue against the use of the present site of the Glenora school rink was referred to the city commissioners by the bylaws committee of the city council for a further report on the rink site, on other sites available and also as to the legal position of the city in respect to the property on which the rink is now located.

Protest against the use of this site as a school rink was registered on M.L.A.'s are prevented from receiving any money from their government other than their indemnities.

An other clause provided the accidental indemnity of $2,000 shall be paid to any member absent on service. Capt. J. H. Tremblay (H.B., Ground), is over.

the ground that it was located on land held exclusively as residential property.

Members of a delegation seeking the retention of the rink at its present location submitted that the site had been selected by the city officials that it was a safe and easily accessible location, and met the district requirements better than any possible alternative site.

The committee decided also to recommend to the city council that the zoning bylaw be enacted.

Aviators Recuparate

Enjoying the comforts they longed for during their nine day ordeal—stranded in the northern barren lands after their plane burned down, the two survivors, Alf Caywood and Jack Rennie, recalled vivid memories on Friday.

Both Caywood, the pilot, and Rennie, the mechanic, are rapidly recovering from effects of the exposure.

There are fewer accidental traffic deaths in the spring than in any other season of the year, statistics reveal.

Shaw Play Is Well Produced By "U" Society

George Bernard Shaw's "Candida," judged by critics as one of his best, was produced by the University of Alberta Dramatic society Thursday night at Convocation hall before a large audience. Twenty-nine in all, annual "spring" play is produced by the student society, the production this year is of a much higher standard than recent efforts of the group. Final performance will be given at 8:15 p.m. Friday.

Taking the leading role, that of Rev. James Mavor Merrell, as well as directing the play, E. Maltwyn Jones completes another satisfactory dramatic assignment. Evelyn E. H. Johnston as "Candida" maintains her rights as one of the gifted "dramas" on the U. of A. campus.

Repeating the part he played at the Banff School of Fine Arts last summer Billy Carr handles well the role of the young, romantic poet.

Eugene Marchbanks, Veronica Dore makes a success of Prosperine Garnett allotment, while Drake Shelton, in his first variety stage appearance, as the "Cookney" Burgess, does well.

FINE PERFORMANCE

Lloyd B. Graham gives another good account of himself as the "precious little curate from Oxford," Burgess.

Fred J. Simpson, stage manager for both the U. of A. Philharmonic and Dramatic societies, finished off another task "well done" in the scenery.

PRODUCTION STAFF

Production staff includes stage assistants, Jack Bicknell, Harold Bergmiller, Julius Goldberg, Merlyn Brown, Nathan Lohr, lightman, Russell Hannah, assistant lightman, William M. Giles, property mistress, Audrey MacPetersen.

During the last 25 years, smoke and soot have done damage amounting to $200,000,000 in buildings in Great Britain.

property assistants, Margaret Hayes and Marguerite Jones.

Make-up "crew" consisted of Margaret Fraser (chairman), Gus Ames, Muriel Hilt, Eva Lee and Charles MacDonald.

On the society executive are Murray Kendrick, president; Mr. Jones, consultant; Norma E. Cochrane, vice-president; Robert G. Black, treasurer; I. Secord Jackson, secretary; and Marguerite Hayes, publicity—R.J.T.

Mother, Don't Save Pennies at the Risk of Your Child's Health

Don't buy some unknown remedy because it's cheap. A few pennies aren't worth the risk.

Give your child only well-known preparations your own doctor would approve

When the health of your child is at stake, don't gamble with bargain remedies. Do as your own doctor has likely warned you—Always ask his advice before buying any preparation you don't know all about.

Especially is this true of the very important and frequently used milk of magnesia. Ask your doctor about it. Many doctors for over 60 years have said, "Get Phillips' Milk of Magnesia for your child."

So when your doctor says "Get Phillips," always follow his advice. Ask for and insist upon "Genuine Phillips."

Cooking them Over

THE gripping film, "What Price Glory?" told a never-to-be forgotten story of the first World War. "What Price Glory?" may perhaps be the title of a picture doing the same for the present war.

Bravado among the military staffs of the United Nations have repeatedly emphasized the fact that the Nazi horde are in better physical condition than the average Canadian, British, American or Australian.

The youth of Germany, going through the Hitler, Hitler, Hitler, Hitler, and may, and may still be, the best physically conditioned army that the world has ever seen.

How come? The answer is rivers of sweat that poured from long hours of physical training.

P.T. has never been popular with Canadians or Americans. To them it is drab, dull and uninteresting. They prefer to take their exercise in games—baseball, hockey, tennis and golf have given us a greater competitive spirit than our enemies—a stronger will to win—but it hasn't given us the stamina and all-around physical strength that the Nazis have got from their P.T.

Army, Navy and Air Force are all having trouble getting Anglo-Saxons to put the personal effort into P.T. that they must give in order to produce results.

You never get anything worthwhile for nothing and there is nothing that is truer of than physical development. Take a look at any of the magnificent developed men in a physical culture magazine and then take a look at yourself in the nude. The difference represents about two or three years of the hardest, most grueling work you can imagine—one or two hours of sweating and straining for at least five or six days a week on progressive exercises.

It's a Spartan grind that will test your will power and perseverance to limit you never imagined possible. It weeds out mental weaklings fast, but it pays off in the end with priceless assets.

When you finally look in a full-length mirror and see a perfect physique, when you can tear a deck of cards with a twist of your wrist, straighten out a horseshoe with your bare hands and chin yourself with one arm, then, brother, you've got something you wouldn't give up for a fortune.

Work becomes fun then and the harder it is the more you enjoy it. You'll be eager to walk miles—and you'll walk like a champion, afraid of neither man, beast nor devil. Your brain will work faster and better than ever before. You'll sleep like a log, eat like a lumberjack and laugh at things you used to worry you like.

We Canadians can have this physical strength—if we have guts enough to go after it.

Laughs From The Training Camps

HERE are a few of the better chuckles that have come in from the spring training camps of the major league club.

Johnny Murphy of the Yankees, who has been spending most of his time for many years relieving such starting pitchers as Lefty Gomez, last Lefty as a dependent of his when he made out his income tax report this month.

Gomez was pitching batting practice to Ken Sears, a rookie catcher up from Newark, the other day and Sears missed his first six swings Lefty batted to McCarthy, who was watching. "Why didn't I hold out for more dough?" McCarthy took the bat from Sears, and taking his first swings in many years, the first three came pitches deep into the outfield. "Holy cow," yelled Gomez, "I need Murphy this early!"

When new and former duffers are developed in sport, Ray Donnan, president of Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, will be the agent to produce them.

This Wichita wizard heard about the new crown-offensive in basketball and promptly came up with a plan which his basic umpire around the path on the boom of a derrick. He just preside a section and sits through the air—10 feet above the ground—in any place around the bases. Dumont, however, has the caution to announce that he will try his "Flying Ump" in an exhibition game before appearing in the semi-pro championship.

Unfortunately Dumont hasn't given any details of how the derrick is constructed and kept out of the way of players and balls. Other Dumont inventions include a microphone that pops up from the home plate to broadcast batter-ump squabbles over a loudspeaker and an electric eye contrivance that calls balls and strikes and checks on the eye-sight of the ump.

Snead Takes Lead In $5,000 Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Samuel Jackson Stoen, the grand amateur golf, ignored the elements Thursday in fine a three under par 60 and take the lead at the halfway point in the 12-hole $5,000 St. Petersburg open, from which Ben Hogan and two others were disqualified at the height of a rainstorm for spending too long over a cup of coffee in the clubhouse.

A hard rain enveloped the Lake of Wood Country Club in the midst of the second 18-hole round and the players were forced to postpone the afternoon play until the following day.

Stoen, who had taken a 3-1 lead, Galbraith scored two and Anderson, who had taken the lead, was disqualified at the height of a rainstorm for spending too long over a cup of coffee in the clubhouse.

Baltimore Loses

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 6 (AP)—Johnny Shorby, Chicago, scored three of the four goals, two of them in the second period after the home team had taken a 3-1 lead, Galbraith scored two and Anderson, who had taken the lead, was disqualified at the height of a rainstorm for spending too long over a cup of coffee in the clubhouse.

ALBERTA FINISHES IN FIFTH PLACE

Mantoba Wins Tankard 10th Time

Slaviks Beaten In Last Two Tilts

QUEBEC, March 6 (CP)—The Canadian Curling championship went to Manitoba Thursday night for the 10th time in 16 years of Macdonald's Brier tankard play when J. Ken Watson's Winnipeg rink scored an easy victory over Prince Edward Island in the ninth and final round. The victory left Watson with eight victories and only one defeat.

Watson, a winner of the title six years ago, defeated a rink skipped by W. R. Cruikshank of Charlottetown 14-3 in succeeding to the championship won last year by Howard Palmer of Alberta.

Two brothers, Gordon and Don Campbell, were runners-up in the 1942 event as Ontario and British Columbia, their respective rivals, finished with seven victories against two defeats.

In the final round Donald Campbell's Vancouver rink won 14-1 over the Alberta four skipped by John Slavik of Viking while his brothers' Hamilton Thistle aggregate triumphed 12-4 over a Quebec rink skipped by J. A. Ross, Jr. of Huntington that failed to win a game in the four-day tourney.

The other ninth round games saw New Brunswick's Dan Connolly of Bathurst win 14-3 over the Nova Scotia four from Bridgewater skipped by John I. Hobbs while the Bonaventure rink representing Saskatchewan, skipped by John Franklin, defeated Northern Ontario's Bill McNeill of Sudbury 10-3.

ALBERTA WAS TOUGH

In comparison to his two other matches during the day, against Watson and Alberta, the game against Prince Edward Island was a breeze for the Manitoba rink, brushed by the youthful Watson.

Against Alberta, the Manitoba rink had been forced to come through three additional tough matches. But the Winnipeg rink scored almost all at first and the P.E.I. rink, Cruikshank's Charlottetown rink took a 1-0 lead on the first end but they were never in the match after that. Watson marked up three shots on the second end, two more on the third and three on the fourth and added six straight singles. No 12th end was played as Cruikshank's rink would have been unable to win even with a perfect end.

DRAW SHOTS PLAY OFF

Watson's brilliant play quickly demonstrated all its rock artistry in scoring its three shots on the second end to start on the third end. The Manitoba rink, third, Grant Watson, drew in behind a flock of short rocks and Cruikshank failed to rise. Manitoba's counting shots. Skip Ken Watson took the third end in two fine draws.

This seemed the tonic the westerner needed to put them in stride and after both rinks picked up two shots on the next two ends, Watson again came through with two beautiful draw efforts to count three more shots on the fifth end. Over the remaining ends, the Winnipeg rink won easily.

Although their performance was superb throughout the champions displayed their greatest ability in the pinches. And the best example was on the next two ends when Watson again played four shots in the last end to tie 11-10.

REMNANT RALLY

Against Alberta, Watson was in the spot from the first shot-making of the Slavik rink. But Manitoba's rally on the last end was one of the finest "risky" displays ever seen in the bonspiel.

Slavik got two shots into the button and the final end, one near the button and another at the six-foot. Manitoba failed to alter the layout with the first four rocks but third Grant Watson drew in behind a square to displace Alberta's rock near the tee. Then, when Victor Slavik missed a raise attempt, the Manitoba third put down another counting rock near his fire.

Skip John Slavik was narrow with a raise and walked in a third Manitoba shot and Ken Watson supplied the fourth and payoff shot when he drew beautifully to the four foot on the interior. Slavik failed again on his last shot.

It was announced following the bonspiel that the tie for second place between Ontario and British Columbia would be allowed to stand since it is necessary for the Quebec team to have the arena ice tonight for a Quebec Senior Hockey League playoff game against Cornwall of the Ottawa district.

Mrs. Walter M. Stewart of Montreal presented the Macdonald's Brier Tankard to the winners at a special ceremony on the ice after the event ended. Silver trays were presented to the individual members of the winning rink by Mrs. Thomas Caverhill of Montreal. Silver trays also were presented to the members of the British Columbia and Ontario teams.

Fighter Dies In Ring During Bout

PHILADELPHIA, March 6 (AP)—Herbert Black, 29-year-old negro boxer, died last night in the Olympic club ring before 1,800 fans in a bout in which he was substituting for another fighter for a $25 purse.

Angelo Panatelli, 22, his opponent, was arrested on a technical foul charge after the bout.

Black went down twice under a flurry of blows in the third round. Dr. Ralph C. Lanza said death was caused by a cerebral concussion.

Black, a lightweight, had fought six ring and professional bouts before his last.

Hon. Solon Low Takes Exception To McNab Statement

Mixed Farming Making Wheat Less Important

Due to diversification in farming, wheat growing has become relatively less important in the economy of agriculture, D. G. McKenna, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and head of the Canadian Grain Commission, stated here Friday.

Mr. McKenna, together with three members of the board of directors of the grain commission, is on an inspection tour of terminal elevators in western cities. They will inspect the elevator at Calder during the day.

At noon Mr. McKenna will be the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Macdonald hotel, sponsored by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

As a result of the war, market demands for wheat have been minimized to a point where very little exporting is possible outside of the British market, he said.

At the same time Britain is able to take all other farm products as rapidly as they can be produced, he stated. This situation has placed the problem of wheat marketing in a very serious situation.

Diversified farming methods are rapidly gaining headway and as a result, the prestige of wheat growing is on the down grade, he explained.

With Mr. McKenna are Dr. D. A. McElbion and C. M. Hamilton, members of the board of directors of the grain commission and John Rayner, secretary of the board.

Congratulations

Mr. Justice W. R. Howson, who Friday was receiving congratulations on his birthday. Born at Norwood, Ont., on March 8, 1883, he was graduated from the University of Alberta in 1915 with the B.A. degree, winning the gold medal in that year. He was called to the Alberta bar in 1915, and was created a King's Counsel in 1935. He was appointed to the supreme court of Alberta in March, 1938. He served overseas during the Great War of 1914-1918.

A clause allowing street cars to move against traffic lights is included.

Lending Companies In Alberta Refuse Loans Minister Tells House

Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer, in the legislature Thursday voiced "strong objection" to a statement made in the press by A. A. McNab, of Edmonton, president of the Mortgage Loans Association of Alberta, regarding the association's attitude to housing loans in this province.

The minister objected specifically to a statement by Mr. McNab that "Mr. Low knows that this is not true" with regard to a declaration by the minister that lending companies had refused to make loans in Alberta under the National Housing act unless the government proceeded from its debt adjustment policy to the point of allowing wholesale foreclosure on old loans.

Mr. Low said he had made this statement in a memorandum given to him, Lucien Maynard, K.C., minister of municipal affairs, and expressed his views.

The fact that not a housing loan had been made in this province in the past four years was proof of the fact that the lending companies had refused to make loans here under the National Housing act, he said.

Being on a point of privilege in the house, the provincial treasurer quoted from a letter from Jules Fortin, secretary of the Dominion Mortgage Loans Association, to Hon. E. C. Manning, provincial secretary, the letter, dated September 28, 1937.

Getting Around with Jack Delong

Training of 3,000 new air raid wardens has started in Vancouver. Addressing a lecture meeting attended by 500 wardens, Mayor J. W. Corbett stated: "We are here to be prepared for an air raid. If we are prepared we will meet the emergency coolly. The main thing is to get on with the job."

There is still a tendency to look upon possible bombing of cities on this continent as an unpleasant side issue possessing no real military significance. This attitude might easily result in a seriously dangerous situation in the future.

Proposal For City Poll Tax Is Eliminated

A clause authorizing the city of Edmonton to levy a poll tax up to $10 a year was eliminated from proposed amendments to the city charter when the bill was discussed by the legislature's committee of the whole Thursday.

Withdrawal of the clause was made at the request of D. M. Dugan, Ind. Edmontonian who said city officials were in favor of the deletion in view of the possibility of some form of uniform charter for Alberta cities being introduced at the next session.

The clause would have given authority to make a tax not exceeding $10 a year on every adult resident, with certain exemptions. A poll tax clause already in the charter was repealed at the same time.

With this and other changes, the bill to amend Edmonton's charter was reported for third reading by the committee.

Among provisions in the bill were a clause requiring collection to grant time off with pay between 4 and 6 p.m. in the day of an election to any employee for the purpose of voting.

The city also was empowered to regulate the use of milk or cream deliveries may be made by city.

Another clause permits impounding of bicycles where the owner is convicted of a traffic offence with respect to the use of a bicycle within the city.

Provision is made that the city may let a public transit franchise to a private operator, but could not be served by the street railway system and that no transfer arrangement shall exist between the city-owned service and the private service.

It is also provided that the city may extend its street railway or bus lines to serve war industries, such as the aircraft repair plant, and may charge fares on the extension higher than the regular fares on other parts of the system.

Youth Charged With Stealing Milk Fund Cash

A young man was placed on suspended sentence for one year for the cash stolen before Magistrate Miller in city police court Friday.

He was Paul Yurchuk, 18, who admitted that he had stolen a $200.00 from the Milk For Britain Fund collection bottle from the counter of the Calder Table Supply Co., 1204 122 street. The youth told the court that there was "only about two bits" in the bottle, and that he thought it had been overlooked by the collection officials.

He was ordered to report regularly to Det.-Insp. John Lee during the period of suspension.

General M. Cohen Reported Killed

Former resident of this city, General "Two-Gun" Morris Cohen, once commander-in-chief of the Chinese Nationalist Army, has been captured and shot by the Japanese, according to a story published this date in the Winnipeg Tribune.

Born in London's east end, the 50-year-old Cohen came to Canada at the age of 18 and settled in Winnipeg where he was well known in Jewish and Chinese circles. Later he conducted for a time, a real-estate business here. He took an active part in organizing the Chinese Nationalist League. In 1922 he went to Canton, China, where he became associated with Dr. Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese Republic.

He became commander-in-chief of the Chinese Nationalist Army. He left China in 1928 but returned later and resumed his army duties. No details of where Gen. Cohen's capture or death occurred is given in the story.

THE QUESTION
In a letter to The Bulletin, Thursday, "Northern Pilot" points out that from Canada to Tokyo there is an almost unbroken chain of islands, with the Aleutians forming part of it. The Aleutians being to the United States, and the fourth island belongs to our enemy Japan. What are we waiting for, he asks.

THE ANSWERS
FRED J. MARSHALL, himself, I think that that something that the military authorities know far more about than do the average citizen. If we can do it, however, I think that we should certainly take the offensive there.

FRANK CONROY, agent: I am not well versed in all the aspects of the question, but on the face of it, it seems an opening that the United Nations should take full advantage of, and start an offensive action.

Dorothy Dix Says:

"Dear Dorothy Dix: I am one of the boys who, persuaded a girl to prove her love by her letters to him. Now I see how wrong I was and am burdened with remorse. Marriage is impossible as the girl is in love with me and I have further educational plans and, anyway, I do not think I could be a happy father. Yet she loves me and clings to me and loves me and is all-wise making if I am tired of her, and she knows that I am. I am too fond of her to continue to let her go. I have proved her love for me, but I can't bear to think of letting her go because I feel that in breaking down her resistance I will be responsible if she yields to future temptations. What can I do?"

A HEAVY HEART

ANSWER: You cannot undo the wrong that you have done to yourself and the girl, but you can at least salvage this good out of your mistake and your remorse. You can make it a lesson and shield against temptation when you meet it again. I think nothing is more unfortunate than when a young man is taught from their youth up that in affairs with women they must give and take and that it is only the woman who has to pay and pay, and pay. It is true that both God and man have laid the heaviest penalty for breaking the moral law on the man. She pays the highest price, but the man who sins does so at a cost-free effort. He also must pay the price.

Sometimes, as in your case, he does it with his conscience, and that is blood money. As long as you live you will be haunted by the memory of something that you have done and mean that you have done. Or a young girl's trust that you betray. Or a love you unrequited. Or a girl's romance which you laid a shadow that you cannot lift. You will never think of it without feeling as if you had trodden a white flower into the mud, or murdered some little helpless animal that grieved at your feet.

Some men pay their follies, by getting in entanglements with women that wreck their lives. When they try to break the bonds that some lady love has woven about them, they find they cannot do it. They are held fast by tears, by entreaties, by threats of suicide, by the fear of scandal.

By none of the penalties for a life of deliberate wrongdoing can be undone against you. You have merely stumbled off the straight and narrow path and through your tears of repentance have climbed back on it again. So do not let your misadventure make you morbid by dwelling on it too long.

Do not think that you can "love" to the girl by marrying her. That would only make a bad matter worse. You do not love her. You are both too young to marry. You have no way of supporting her. And it would wreck both of your lives.

It is hard enough for a man to be a good husband when he loves his wife. When he doesn't love her, and marries her only from a sense of duty, it is an impossibility. So the best and kindest thing you can do for her is just to part and let her go. She will soon forget.

Diagrams Show Step in Design Today, any girl who loves clothes and has ideas about them may aim at a dress design career—there are wonderful new opportunities!

If you don't know the steps from bright idea to dress, you may learn yourself.

You might start by sketching your idea, using a cardboard figure as guide; then you make a foundation pattern—a piece of muslin you drape on a form.

For the blouse, pin the center of the dress form, allowing 4 inches above the neckline, and pin along shoulder and under arm. Slip off muslin—cutting along the center, too, for you want only half the figure.

Now on this foundation pattern work out your special design with colored thread and pen. As you learn the lines that flatter the

Meatless Lenten Dishes Fit Wartime Economy

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
During Lent, many Canadians seek nutritious and interesting meatless dishes. These might well be continued right through the year, provided that each meatless meal is rich in low cost protein. The following easy-to-prepare dishes will help cut food costs without cutting protein requirements of balanced diet.

BULLETIN PATTERNS

Bolero-Effort on Tiny Frock

Serves 5 to 6.
One-half pound macaroni, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1 cup water, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup cheese grated, 1/4 cup bread crumbs, 1/2 cup milk.
Cook macaroni until soft in a large amount of boiling salted water. Drain and rinse with cold water. Put cooked macaroni into a greased bowl. Heat milk and butter, add cheese and stir until melted. Cover macaroni with cheese sauce. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and dot with fat. Bake in moderate oven until brown.

Serve with raw cabbage, carrot and green pepper salad with this uncooked salad dressing.

UNCOOKED SALAD DRESSING
(Serves 5 to 6)
One tablespoon fat, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup evaporated milk, 2 tablespoons vinegar. Add sugar and salt to the evaporated milk. Stir and add the vinegar slowly. Mix well.

CREAMED POTATOES AND HARD-COOKED EGGS
(Serves 5 to 6)
Two tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1 cup water, 4 large potatoes (boiled in skins), 4 hard-boiled eggs, sliced.
Melt fat, add flour, salt and evaporated milk mixed with water, and cook until thickened. Add potatoes, sliced, and eggs. Reheat. Serve with steamed spinach, beet tops or chard.

Your Baby And Mine

The use of the scales at least once weekly to determine the small baby's gain in weight is almost an imperative ceremony. There is no other way in which it is possible to determine the baby's progress.

Babies fast at the breast, or turn away from it and refuse to nurse any longer. The question is whether there is anything in the breast or whether the baby has already eaten his fill. The scales must be brought in to clear up the lawlessness.

In hospitals it is quite common practice to weigh the baby before and after each nursing to determine the amount of breast milk the baby receives at each feeding. This makes it far easier to decide why a baby cries after some feedings and is placidly or sleepily content after others.

The weekly ceremony of weighing should take place at the same time each week and in the same state of dress. If the baby is weighed at night, it should be done in the nude. If the baby is weighed weakly or bawls at a clinic, it is likewise done in the nude.

But the weighing must take place at the doctor's or the nurse's, for the baby may be weighed weekly in the same selection of garments, and the gains in weight will be just as apparent as if the weighing were done naked.

The gain each week should be noted on a weight chart supplied by the doctor or nurse for this purpose. As the weight each week is noted, the doctor or nurse will be able to tell if the baby is gaining weight as fast as it should. If the weighing were done naked, the gain would be more apparent.

Administration Alberta Debt Adjustment Act Is Impartial Maynard Says

Denial that there had been any political interference with the administration of the Debt Adjustment Act was made in the legislature Thursday by Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., minister of municipal affairs. He replied to a charge made Wednesday by J. C. Mahaffy, N.C., M.P., Calgary, that he (the minister) had "interfered" in the affairs of the debt adjustment board.

Had the Calgary member known the late W. Loree, former chairman of the board, Mr. Maynard said, "he would never have left the inference that Mr. Loree would have suffered any political interference. Rather than put up with any political interference with his administration on the board, Mr. Loree would have resigned."

Mr. Maynard said it was true Mr. Loree had asked permission to discuss with him certain cases and applications which came before the board and that, whenever a case was brought to his attention, he had given it study as he considered that to be his duty as the minister under whose department the board was placed.

REPRESENTATIONS MADE

But often representations were made to the board and to himself by members of the legislature from both sides of the house and each case was considered purely on its merits, the minister said. "There was not one case where I can say that there was any unfairness in the Debt Adjustment Act administration," he said.

The minister spoke following an address by Mr. Mahaffy, who the house was in committee of the whole to consider estimates. Mr. Mahaffy spoke to the estimates for the debt adjustment board, recommending a broad policy to adjust farmers' debts and assist farmers to re-establish themselves on a profitable basis.

The Calgary Independent had commented his address on Wednesday and made his proposals on Thursday, advocating that the legislature give to the courts power to reduce farmers' indebtedness on a basis which he termed "1942 equity." He also urged the creation of a "farmers' advisory council" to assist farmers to re-establish their finances, represent them to debt suits and advise them on agricultural methods and management.

MOTION DEFEATED

Mr. Maynard, in his reply, declared that many of the proposals made by Mr. Mahaffy were already being carried out by the debt adjustment board and by the department of agriculture field service.

Mr. Mahaffy concluded his address by making a motion that the Debt Adjustment Act set appropriation of $47,470 be laid aside to give the government an opportunity to reconsider the whole private debt situation and consider the establishment of a farmers' advisory council.

When Mr. Maynard had finished his reply, Mr. Mahaffy's motion was put to the house and was defeated by a voice vote. The members then immediately passed the item and the remainder of the municipal affairs departmental estimates, totalling $548,330.

Early in his address on Thursday, Mr. Mahaffy said that while the law is continually changing, it sometimes lags behind conditions unless parliament and legislatures are continually on the alert. He suggested that a "law reform committee" be formed in Alberta, similar to such committees in England.

"1942 EQUITY"
Proposing a policy of "1942 equity" he said, "Our judges on their own initiative have done much. Let us bolster their rights and duties with legislation."

He suggested that as one detail, "the courts be given greater power to refuse to allow court costs to a creditor who has brought a vexatious and unnecessary action."

Assuming that changes were made in the Judicature Act to assure greater equity, Mr. Mahaffy said, there were still many problems. A judge must have full information as to a debtor's honesty or dishonesty, whether his position was "hopeless" or whether, given a chance, he could work out.

He proposed the formation of a Farmers' Advisory Council, composed of men of the highest order, to include practical farmers, a body which must be non-political, "broad-minded and imaginative."

CONSUANT BODY

This body, he said, should be a consultant for any farmer in financial difficulty, investigate his ability and methods and his farm, see him through a hearing with the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, advise him on his methods and farm management and canvas the possibility of securing a loan for him from the Farm Loan Board.

In cases where a farmer's ability to succeed was jeopardized by poor land or a poor district, the council could encourage and assist him to change his location. It could also prepare a record and a brief for him to sponsor his case where he faced a court suit.

Mr. Mahaffy said his suggestions were made purely as his own feelings in the debt problem.

26,355 CASES

Mr. Maynard told the house that, since the Debt Adjustment Act was passed in 1937 and up to the end of January this year, the board had dealt with 26,355 cases and had written 16,306. There were 4,349 still to be dealt with.

The board, he said, had granted 16,811 permits to take legal action to collect debts, had refused 5,417 permits with directions to tion had been received and 122 permits granted.

In dealing with applications before it, he said, the board had no record of the politics, race or religion of the debtor or creditor and never considered such questions. He asked why Mr. Mahaffy made proposals only for farmers, declaring that there was a class of urban debtors "just as deserving."

EQUITY EXTENDED
The recently-introduced amendment to the Judicature Act, providing a period of redemption of one year and giving judges power to restructure or extend the period according to case circumstances in all old debt actions, extended the principles of equity, the minister said.

The debt adjustment board, he said, was carrying out principles suggested by Mr. Mahaffy as the functions of a Farmers' Advisory Council.

The board employs a lawyer to defend any case and supplies case histories, he said.

District agriculturalists carry out an advisory service for farmers on farm methods and farm management, he said, and often farmers are advised to change to more fruitful locations. In cases where a debtor was unable to earn money to pay their debts, he said, the government had taken the stand that the state and not the creditor should carry him.

BOARD TO CONTINUE
There were many cases where dishonest debtors were not given protection by the board, he said, and this applied equally under the Tax Recovery Act.

The board was being kept in operation, he said, as if the Debt Adjustment Act was upheld by the privy council, where it is now being appealed, creditors who had started action would be in a more favorable position than if they had proceeded without a board permit.

Regarding court costs, he said, an order-in-council recently had been passed giving the courts power to cancel all costs.

Ration Books Arrive

A new shipment of about 400 ration books prepared for the different categories was received in the Alberta Motor Association offices Thursday.

The books are colored according to categories, and those for applications under category "A" are being distributed as soon as applications are filed out, while books for other categories will be given as soon as ratification of the proper categories in which each driver falls, are received.

The colorful climbing shrub, bougainvillea, was named in honor of a French navigator, Louis Antoine De Bougainville.

SECOND VICTORY LOAN Closes Tomorrow

JUST ONE more day! One more day to get in your application for a share in Victory!

BRIDE CAME FORTH

By Louise Holmes

CHAPTER XXX
The audience clamored for more when Vicky finished Kathy's story, clapping, shouting, stamping their feet. But when the bride turned away from the microphone, more than a little shocked at her own, immature, to win the applause man dashed back and forth, muttering for a moment.

WONDERFUL
Catching up her hat and cape, she attempted to slip from the studio. On her unobtrusive way out, she was hilariously averted. The m.c. and the announcer, the sound man and the comedy team, Ford Dunham and his Daughters, all crowded about. Hands were outstretched, voices raised. Words like, "Sweet wonderful—peachero!" circled about her head.

In the midst of the kindly fanfare Kathy Jordan emerged from her dressing room, supported by her maid on one side and a gentleman who might be a doctor or, more likely, a lawyer, on the other.

Breaking away, she whirled through the admiring throng to face Vicky.

"You little—!" Her fingers were stiffly bent. A blood-red nail pointed each one. She lunged at Vicky, claws clanking. The band, in a body, halted her progress.

In the ensuing struggle Vicky landed a heavy east. On the main floor she hurried to the street, stopping there uncertainly. Eric, gay, What would she do with it?

Deciding to leave it in the garage, she turned toward Fifth Avenue. A taxi stood at the curb, its door open. The walk to east Thirty Ninth Street was long and hair-raising.

She hesitated. On the other hand, 35c was 35c. Again she started for home, stepping out bravely. As she passed an unlighted door, a familiar voice said, "Steady, darling. Get into the cab and don't make a scene."

Vicky, self-conscious and a little frightened, was the first one off the stage. Whatever had possessed her to step into Kathy Jordan's shoes without so much as a nod from the horrified master of ceremonies? She found Jim sitting close beside her. Close. Heard him say, "Round the park, drive—round and round and don't look back!"

His arm were about her, and her hand was going up his cheek, feeling his shoulder to make sure around his neck, alerting. She laughed, as he cried, she breathed, "Jim—Jim—"

Perfectly preening her head into his shoulder, he made increasing sounds in his throat. When his lips found hers she suddenly drew back. Her hand fell to his chest and she pushed.

"Jim—wait a minute!" she panted, his eyes were frantically eyes.

"They, what? That?" he asked, raising her to him.

She held him off, more with her eyes than her hand. Freeing herself, she leaned forward, giving her address to the driver. Turning to Jim, she said quickly, breathlessly, "We've got to talk. I know all about you—we've got to talk."

"I know why you couldn't marry me. We can't discuss it in a taxi cab." Her voice broke. "Oh, Jim, how could you do it to me—and—"

"Because I love you," he said very low. "I came tonight because I love you—because I couldn't stay away."

"That isn't reason enough," she said, and, "Don't say anything now. I live just down the block."

Vicky's little apartment. They faced each other. Jim burst out, "I know you're not a true bride. I know that it couldn't work. I thought my love would make it work. I thought we could have a life—"

Low Declares Loan Companies Avoid Alberta

July 9, I acquainted our member companies that operate under the National Housing act with the contents of your letter by sending them a copy of same. After this has been afforded an opportunity to study the situation, these companies have asked me to advise you of their reaction to its contents.

"The experience of these companies in Alberta in recent years has been that legislative measures enacted by the Alberta legislature and administered under the direction of the Alberta government have greatly increased the ordinary risks of business in Alberta.

"In the capacity of trustees, the companies consider that they would be disregarding their trust if they were to place at risk in Alberta additional moneys in the face of this past experience and in the absence of evidence that the legislation and the policies represented thereby are to be modified in a position where the creditor may recover moneys advanced by him with interest within the measure of the debtor's assets and ability to pay."

This letter, he said, supported his view that the companies had refused to make loans and that they held out for repeal of the government's debt adjustment policies.

The provincial treasurer also took exception to Mr. McNab's statement that Mr. Low had not even acknowledged a letter from Mr. Fortin asking for details of a proposed tripartite agreement between the Dominion, province and loan companies for making housing loans in Alberta.

Mr. Low said that Mr. Fortin, in his letter, had merely asked him if he "could get anything from the federal government" on the tripartite agreement, and if he could to let Mr. Fortin know about it.

This was the only point needing a reply, Mr. Low said, and he had been unable to get any information from the federal government.

WROTE DIRECTOR

To try to obtain information on this subject, Mr. Low said he had written on March 8, 1941, to Mr. F. V. Nichols, Ottawa, federal housing director. His letter to Mr. Nichols was as follows:

"While I was in Ottawa at the Dominion-provincial conference in January, I met with Mr. Fortin of the Dominion Mortgage Loan Association and talked with him the possibility of loans under the Dominion Housing Act being extended to the province of Alberta."

"I pointed out that in some quarters it had been suggested that a tripartite agreement of some sort be entered into among provinces, Dominion and loan companies, for the purpose of further extending the loans made under the act in the province of Alberta. I believe the suggestion originated with the Calgary Board of Trade."

"I told Mr. Fortin that we were quite ready to enter into any kind of agreement that would be suitable to them and to the federal government."

"Mr. Fortin suggested in a letter just received that this offer should be I ascertain whether the government of Canada would be willing to enter into some such tripartite agreement for the purpose of rendering the loans made under the Housing Act in Alberta absolutely secure in the future. Apparently they have in mind a complete immunity from any debt adjustment legislation which might in the future be put into effect by the government of the province."

"I have pointed out repeatedly that the present arrangement under the Housing Act gives them the complete immunity that they would be disregarding their trust if they were to place at risk in Alberta additional moneys in the face of this past experience and in the absence of evidence that the legislation and the policies represented thereby are to be modified in a position where the creditor may recover moneys advanced by him with interest within the measure of the debtor's assets and ability to pay."

"This does not seem to be enough, however, and the suggestion is that an agreement be reached with the federal government having the effect of providing a further guarantee that should any debt adjustment legislation be put through the legislature of Alberta in future affecting Dominion housing loans that the federal government would have the right to step in and disallow such legislation."

"We are ready to bring in to this present session any legislation which is deemed necessary to provide in order that Dominion housing loans can be extended to our province and further, we are ready to enter into a tripartite agreement, if such can be worked out satisfactorily to yourselves and the mortgage companies."

"Let me know, then, at your convenience the attitude of the senior government so that I can have the necessary legislation drafted and put through at this session."

Mr. Low said the only reply he received was from Mr. Nichols' office dated March 14, as follows: "We acknowledge your letter of March 8 and wish to advise you that Mr. Nichols is out of the city for a week or so. Your letter will be taken to his attention when he returns."

There had been nothing else, and of course nothing to send on to Mr. Fortin, said Mr. Low.

Getting Around

It may be Canada is reasonably safe from aerial attack at the moment. It may be that with types of aircraft now in general use this continent would never be seriously menaced by an enemy with bases several thousand miles away. But surely few people would seriously cling to the contention that growth of military aviation has passed the point of inflection.

Aviation has paved the way for every Axis victory in date. It is too foolish to even suggest that military leaders of the Axis nations will permit a freezing of design and types of aircraft following such a success as they have achieved with this weapon to date.

We are told to prepare for a long war. Some predict it may last 10 years.

Will the maximum range of the heavy bomber be 6,000 miles 10 years from now? Will it be limited to 10,000 or even 20,000 miles in 1957? What will it be in 1967?

The United Nations are committed to the defeat of the Axis nations. Germany, Japan and Italy are intent upon the destruction of the nations opposed to them. If it is an engineering possibility to strike by long range bombing planes at their most powerful enemy it is a certainty that this will be done by our Axis foes. It is likely that planes of a type that can cross the Atlantic and return in European bases after dropping their bomb loads are already being given very consideration by Axis aeronautical engineers.

The time to prepare the defence against the trans-oceanic bomber of next year, or the year after is now.

fast-moving Bob Hope, Madeleine Carroll, popular British-born movie star, made last-minute arrangements with her studio whereby she would journey to Toronto to take part in tonight's final Victory Loan broadcast. The show goes on the air over the entire C.B.C. national network at 8 o'clock.
